

Wednesday Night Dance

Featuring Frank Cavitt & the Honky-Tonk Doctors

To kick off the Convention on Wednesday evening, we have for your dancing pleasure a great dance band featuring some of the best musicians Austin has to offer. Frank Cavitt on keyboard and vocals plays regularly at Donn's Depot, Broken Spoke, as well as other venues, including private parties. Frank is also a song writer and has published an album of his songs.

Erik Hokkanen on fiddle, guitar and vocals plays regularly at Donn's Depot and Gruene Hall, among other places. Erik's music is featured on soundtracks from "Michael", and "Texas Chainsaw Massacre III". Erik is a member of the Texas Swing Hall of Fame.

Rick Connell is the drummer for the band, and while living in Nashville he played with such greats as Boots Randolph and Chet Atkins. He is well known in the music community. Rick achieved a music degree from North Texas State and taught music for many years. In addition to playing at Donn's Depot, Rick freelances with other bands.

Charlie Irwin plays the electric bass with the rest of the band every Wednesday at Donn's Depot. Charlie has been a professional musician for 50 years. He also plays regularly at the Broken Spoke and with other bands around the Austin area. He has backed up touring performers such as Freddy Fender and Kitty Wells.

These guys love to make music and they play with an energy that will have your foot tapping at the very least!
